BRIDIE CHETWIN-KELLY discovers the colourful and the quirky

Easy breezy style

A light and breezy take on outdoor furniture by oh so chic Belgian brand Manutti. The Duo chair, $1225, and Mood coffee table, $2685, both including shipping, can be ordered locally through McKenzie & Willis, mcw.nz.

MIRROR MIRROR

Inspired by the fluid forms of remote Coyote Buttes cliffs in the US, the layered and organic shapes of the Arizona mirror are formed from bronze, brass and Estremoz marble. $7210 from Insidherland, insidherland.com.

TINY BUT THRIVING

Crafted from handmade glass, this may be the world's smallest greenhouse, perfect for the early stages of your smallest flowers. The bottom holds soil and the top is equipped with a small spout so it can also be used as a watering jug. Grow by Design House Stockholm, $74 from Amara, amara.com/nz.

LAVA LOVER

Evocative of melting metals and fluid landscapes, the new Molten Rivers cushion cover collection by Hobbs & Co is made from silk velvet. The covers are available in two shapes, $150 for rectangle and $155 for square, from Askew, askew.co.nz.

TWO IN ONE

Designed as planters that can double as serving bowls, these pretty pieces are handmade by Tauranga-based JS Ceramics. Large planter $78, jseramics.nz.

One sided

Fresh out of Iceland, this one-armed chair takes its lead from the classic 427 chair designed in 1956 by Ercol. In a selection of on-trend colours and finishes, the Von chair is $2595 from Goodform, goodform.co.nz.

SOMETHING COOL, SOMETHING CHIC

Discovering The Cool Hunter store in Melbourne, Australia will get you yearning for all things gorgeous. Some of its latest offerings include these 16cm-tall Mini Sculptures in solid glass, available in three colours. $156 each from The Cool Hunter, thecoolhunter.net.

LIKE A WEeping WILLOW

Blending luxury and nature, the Azores chandelier by Portuguese designer Joana Santos Barbosa is inspired by the form of the weeping willow and made from polished brass with a gold bath finish. POA from Insidherland, insidherland.com.

Coral care

Accessorise your bed in colour of the year coral, with Forget Me Not, Arie and Sove pillowcases, all $69.90 a pair. Layer up with a Purl Knit cotton throw in Iced Tea $139 on top of a hand-painted Arie Duvet Cover $269 made from certified organic cotton. All from Citta, cittadesign.com.

Wallpaper top pick

Since 1905 Boråstapeter has been Sweden's most well-known brand of wallpaper. With something for every style and room, it's no surprise that New Zealand interior designers Bibby and Brady have tipped the wallpaper as their top pick for 2019. Pictured is Nocturne in Blue from the Sense of Silence collection, $155 per roll from Icon Textiles, icontextiles.co.nz.

PLASTIC FREE: THE BATHROOM

For a greener bathroom, opt for glass containers, bamboo toothbrushes and shampoo bars. Washing your hair with a cake of soap might take some getting used to, but Carly Low of Fair and Square Soapery says natural shampoo bars are gentle, and most people find they are good for their hair. Places like Lush have solid shampoos and conditioners that have softening coconut oil and volumising sea salt. Do Gooder owner Dr Nicky Francis says eco-friendly products work as well as their plastic-bound counterparts and biodegradable bamboo toothbrushes are becoming a regular feature in many Kiwi bathrooms. Pictured clockwise from top, Bamboo Ecobrush $5.50 and Eco Dental Floss $7 from Do Gooder, dogooder.co.nz; Natural Shampoo Bar $18 from Fair and Square Soapery, fairandsquare.co.nz; Bliss Bar $25 from Etique, ethiqueworld.com.
